Preface

Annual Report, 2017 of the Punjab Criminal Prosecution Service is reflecting that. the Punjab Criminal Prosecution Service (PCPS) is completely independent, impartial, and unbiased. It is doing its best efforts to achieve its targets. PCPS is engaged day in and day out in upholding the lofty values of justice and fair play. - e) To challenge judicial determinations including sentences before an Appellate Court where a determination is not in accordance with the law and/or the facts of the case
- f) To seek the opinion of the Court in appropriate cases pertaining to commutation of sentence²

²See Section 401 of the Code of Criminal Procedure

2. Institutional Arrangements

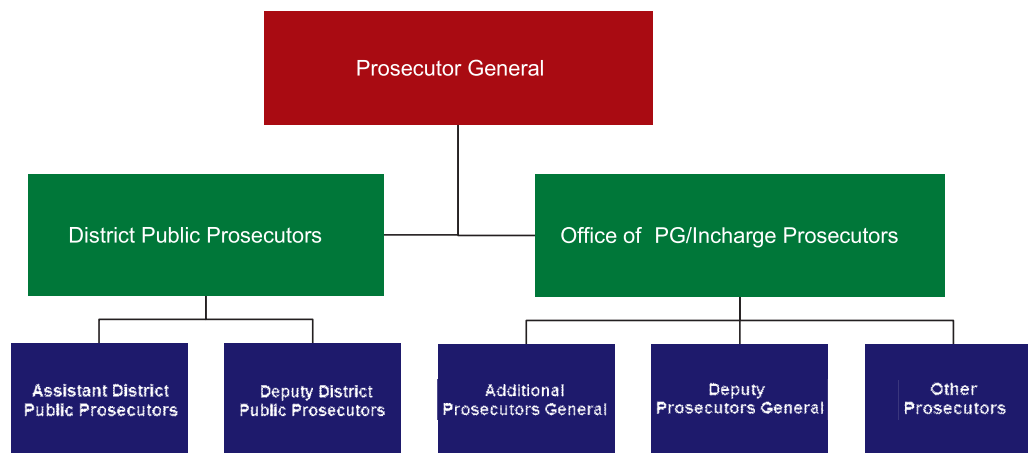

2.1 Structure and Governance Arrangements

The Punjab Criminal Prosecution Service (PCPS) is an attached department of the Prosecution Department, Government of Punjab. The Department is responsible for ensuring that the PCPS delivers its mandate in accordance with law and standards set by the Code of Conduct.

The Prosecutor General is the head of the Criminal Prosecution Service. He is responsible for administering the Service and delivery of prosecutorial services in accordance with law, standards set by the Code of Conduct and guidance issued by the Prosecutor General from time to time.

Prosecutors are appointed in two cadres: District based prosecutors and Superior court prosecutors. While there is no restriction on the right of appearance of the two cadres in any court, superior court prosecutors generally do not appear in cases triable by Sessions Courts or Courts of Magistrates.

Prosecutors in districts report to the District Public Prosecutors who are the senior most prosecutors in a district. Prosecutors working in the superior courts report to the Prosecutor General directly or through their respective managers (in charge prosecutors in regional offices).

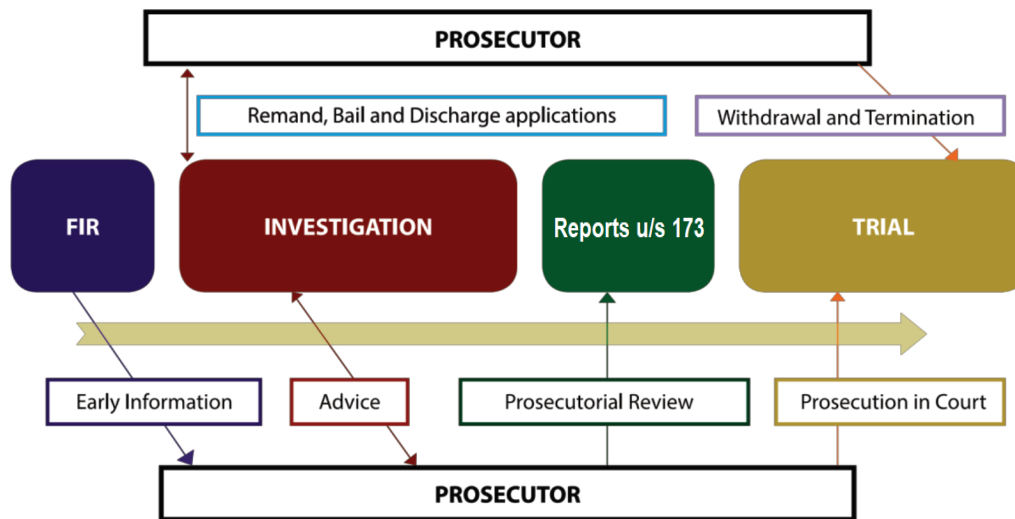

3. Performance during the Criminal Process

3.1 Role and Functions during the Criminal Process

The PCPS performs a number of roles and functions during various parts of the criminal process. The various functions performed by Prosecutors are as follows:

- provision of advice and guidance to the police during investigation;

3.5 Review of Police cases

Prosecutors review police cases at two stages: first when they receive the police file; secondly when they send the case to Court. The first stage may be skipped if the prosecutor thinks that there is nothing that the police can clarify, add or respond to. The first review is issued as a memorandum under section 9(5) of the Punjab Criminal Prosecution Service (Constitution, Functions, and Powers) Act, 2006 (hereinafter called “PCPS Act”) read with Para 4 of the Code of Conduct for Prosecutors. The second review, which is the formal assessment of the prosecutor regarding the police case, is issued in the form of a report under section 9(7) of the PCPS Act. This review enables the Prosecution Service to assess prosecutorial performance in court. Currently, prosecutors have no formal control over charging decisions and the Review, therefore, does not lead to a prosecution being declined (although courts have started to rely on it increasingly). Till such time as the charging decisions are given to prosecutors, the PCPS would like to see courts give more consideration to the assessment of prosecutors.

In 2017, prosecutors wrote 3,22,790 reports under section 9(5) and 71897 reports under section 9(7) of the PCPS Act. The ratio of reports written u/s 9(7) remained 23.25% of the total number of reports submitted in court (71897/309159).

Outcomes in District Courts

A case in court may come to final closure (decided) in three ways:

- a) By acquittal of all accused persons
- b) By conviction of all accused persons
- c) By conviction of some accused persons and acquittal of the rest

A case in court may also come to temporary closure by being consigned to record. This happens when prosecution witnesses do not appear. Police cases may be closed without trial where the police find that the case is false or a matter for the civil courts or is liable to be investigated by another agency (cancelled cases), or where the police are unable to find the perpetrator of the crime and the Magistrate agrees with the recommendations of the Police (untraced cases).

In 2017, cases in district courts had the following outcomes:

- Finally decided: 1,71,394
- Convicted: 99393
- Acquitted: 72001.
- Consigned to record: 166,929

The overall conviction rate in the district-based courts was 57.99% (99393/171394). Bifurcation of the conviction rate is as follows:

- Cases triable by Magistrates: 58.08 % (84627/145671)
- Cases triable by Sessions Courts: 57.40% (14766/25723)

4. Performance Management

4.1 Standards

The Prosecutor General issued Code of Conduct with the prior approval of the Government which came into effect on first of January, 2016. The Code of Conduct prescribed a number of standards for prosecutorial decision making. These standards required prosecutors to take charge of their cases effectively and take prosecutorial decisions independently of police or the courts. Key excerpts of the Code of Conduct are as follows:

Para 5.2, The Full Code Test: 'The Full Code Evidential test must be applied when the investigation is complete and no key evidence remains to be collected. The Public Interest test should be applied when a case clears the Full Code Evidential Test...'

Para 5.4, The Evidential Test: 'That on an objective assessment of the evidence including the impact of any defense or any other information that the suspect has put forward or which he might rely upon, the Prosecutor comes to the conclusion that a magistrate or judge hearing a case is more likely than not to convict the accused on the charge. This is different test from the one that the criminal courts themselves apply, which is that the court must be sure beyond a shadow of doubt that the accused is guilty.'

Para 5.9, The Public Interest Test: 'The test requires that in the assessment of the prosecutor public interest factors tending against the prosecution outweigh the factors tending in favor of it. All prosecutions are in the public interest unless there are factors in exercise that a prosecution may not be made.'

4.2 Ensuring Excellence

The Service maintains standards both through internal checks and controls and through external inspections conducted by the Monitoring Service. Non-compliance with instructions, internal standards and guidelines, and statutory requirements are identified and recorded during the investigation of complaints and the processing of appeals/revisions against court decisions. Corrective actions based upon the reports of the Monitoring Service are taken by the Prosecution Department.

The Monitoring Service issues its annual report separately which gives an independent view of compliance with prosecutorial standards. The two reports should therefore be read together.

4.3 District Appeal Committees

In all the Districts, an Appeal Committee has been established in the office of the District Public Prosecutors, which evaluates the cases decided as to whether any Judgment or Order needs to be impugned or not. If Committee recommends that Order/Judgment may be assailed, then the case is forwarded to the Concerned Regional Offices of the Prosecutor General Punjab. The Regional Office after getting necessary opinion and sanction proceeds accordingly.

4.4 District Challan Scrutiny Committees

There is also District Challan Scrutiny Committee in each District which supervises the scrutiny work of the Prosecutors and recommends or advises parameters to check the report.

4.5 Internal Monitoring Committees

There is also an Internal Monitoring Committee in each district which supervises the prosecutorial work and evaluates the performance of the prosecutors at District Level.

5. Resources

5.1 Budget

The Budget of the PCPS in 2016-2017 was Rs 1489874000 Out of this amount Rs 1347966000 was allocated for salary and Rs 141908000 was allocated for non-salary expenses.
